

Gisela Wolff

My name is Gisela Wolff. I grew up in a small town in South Africa. After graduating from university with a Bachelor of Arts and a Post Graduate Certificate in Education, I set off to South Korea where I began my international teaching career. Over the past 12 years, I have had the privilege to teach children in 5 different countries. As a teacher, I strive to inspire my students to be the best versions of themselves and to see and value their own unique potential. In my free time I like to exercise, meditate, write prose, cook, and read.

Ryan McKinnon

Since beginning my career as a teacher in 2013, I have taught in various posts both in my native Scotland and in Asia. After obtaining my B.A. in Social Sciences, I spent a year teaching English to High School students in Daegu, South Korea. I completed my PGDE in Primary Education in 2016 at Strathclyde University and met the standards for full registration with the General Teaching Council for Scotland the following year. Throughout the past three years I have worked as a Primary Class Teacher with EtonHouse International School in Jinan and was given the promoted post of International Co-Ordinator at the beginning of my third year with the school.

Outside of the classroom, I have been fortunate enough to be trusted with lead roles in developing and implementing a STEM curriculum for Year 1 students and have enjoyed providing training to colleagues concerning literacy planning and assessment. I believe strongly in the importance of utilising research-based best practice in the classroom and always strive to maintain a contemporary knowledge of effective teaching and learning strategies. In every classroom that I lead, I always aim to create an environment where pupils feel valued, respected, and able to reach their full academic potential.

Paul Blois

I have taught senior-high math and sciences for several years. My university major was Math and I also took university level sciences. I love science and the IB system. I have a Bachelor of Education and a Masters Degree in Education Leadership. My focus was IB international-mindedness. I have a level 2 first aid certificate and am quite active. I used to be a national athlete. I enjoy soccer, hiking, cycling, singing, strategy games and taking my kids outside to play. I hope my students stay active inside and outside the classroom and enjoy their learning, too.