Mission: Reducing the incidence and impact of cancer in Aotearoa New Zealand

Foundation: Te Tiriti o Waitangi

Goals

To be a respected voice on cancer prevention, care and survivorship

To be a valued partner within the health sector locally, nationally and internationally

To use our resources efficiently to deliver equitable cancer outcomes for people, whānau and populations

To ensure we are anchored in our communities in the high value services we deliver

Objectives

Represent the experience of people with cancer, their whānau and the wider community to decision-makers to improve cancer outcomes across the continuum for all New Zealanders

Develop a robust, nationwide information base that presents evidence from research findings and sector trends in a way that is accessible and usable for a variety of stakeholders

Use health intelligence to inform targeted health promotion and health literacy initiatives

Further develop partnerships with Māori and Pasifika health organisations that will improve access and outcomes for their populations

Strengthen existing relationships with key public health sector entities, including the Ministry of Health, DHBs, Health Research Council, Universities and PHOs

Explore the opportunity for a 'cancer alliance' with other New Zealand cancer NGOs

Pursue opportunities to build partnerships with international cancer NGOs to deliver better cancer outcomes to all New Zealanders

Champion a challenge ethos to strengthen and align divisions

Ensure governance is fit for purpose

Pursue opportunities to maximise revenue through joined up fundraising approaches

Deliver value for money through a reduction in duplication of functions and activities

Ensure governance, staff and volunteers reflect the diversity of the communities we serve

Develop priorities to guide resource allocation

Ensure the Research Strategy 2018 - 2023 is fit for purpose

Enhance and evolve supportive care and health promotion services in new models of care

Ensure that the organisation is sustainable, by finding new ways of reaching the next generation of staff and volunteers and engaging digitally with our communities

Pursue opportunities that will make a real difference to population groups that bear a disproportionate burden of cancer

Ensure that all volunteers have positive experiences working with us, and are given opportunities to contribute in a meaningful way

National Cancer Action Plan Strategic priorities

- 1 New Zealanders have a system that delivers consistent and modern cancer care
- 2 New Zealanders experience equitable cancer outcomes
- 3 New Zealanders have fewer cancers
- 4 New Zealanders have better cancer survival, supportive care and end-of-life care
