

Tangihanga Process - Alert Level 4

No-one, except the whaanau pani who has been living with the loved one who has passed, may be physically present during any tangi, cremation, or burial arrangements or processes. Unwell or vulnerable people within the whaanau pani must remain at home and not attend any tangi, cremation or burial arrangements or processes. This is to protect everyone from further community transmission of COVID-19 and will save lives. Consider using technology options so the wider whaanau can participate remotely in cremation or burial processes.
